Give Yourself the Gift of Wedding Day Peace of Mind.

There is No Greater Gift

Officiant:

There is no greater gift than the love that makes two people one. To behold this love blossoming between two hearts is always a joy; and to behold the vows of lovers as they take each to the other, throughout all the changes of life, is a glorious moment of the soul. It speaks of the great conviction by which people mutually rely upon and believe in one another. In a world where faith often falls short of our expectation, it is a wonderful tribute to two people to see them joining hands and hearts in perfect faith.

Reading: Optional

Officiant to Groom/Bride:

_____, will you have this woman/man to be your wedded wife/husband, to live together after ordinance in the holy estate of matrimony? Will you love her/him, comfort her/him, honor and keep her/him, in sickness and in health, in sorrow and in joy, and forsaking all others, keep you only unto her/him, so long as you both shall live?

Groom/Bride: I will.

Officiant

What token of these pledges do you offer? Best man presents rings.

Officiant

Bless this act, that the intentions of this moment, symbolized by this visible act, shall be fulfilled through the days of their lives. Amen.

Groom/Bride

With this ring, I thee wed, and pledge my faithful love.

Officiant - Let us Pray

O thou who art the Spirit of Love for the human race, send thy blessing upon these thy servants, whom we bless in the name of love. Enable them faithfully to perform this covenant that they have made in our presence. May their hearts be united in the bonds of each other's joys, consoled of each other's sorrows, helpers to each other in all the vicissitudes of life. Grant that they may faithfully discharge the duties that belong to the condition into which they have entered, and that, as good companions, they may walk the road together from this day forward. Amen.

For inasmuch as _____ and _____ have consented together in wedlock, and have witnessed the same before this company, and thereto have engaged and pledged themselves to each other, and have declared the same by giving and receiving a ring and joining hands, I pronounce that they are husband and wife.

May you always be in love.

May your love be as beautiful on each day you share, as is on this day of your wedding.

Amen.
